HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Will be Held this Year in Walter's Theatre instead of in Brua Chapel. Dr. Wagner to Preach Baccalaureate. No Caps and Gowns.

The commencement of the Gettysburg High School will be held Friday evening May 29 in Walter's Theatre. For some years the graduating exercises of the High School have been held in Brua Chapel but the theatre has a larger seating capacity and will allow all to hear the various orations, a condition which did not exist for those compelled to sit in the annex at the chapel.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduates will be preached in the College Lutheran church by Dr. A. E. Wagner on the Sunday preceding, May 24th, and it is expected that the annual banquet of the High School Alumni Association will take place on Monday evening, June first.

The Seniors will have a week's vacation before commencement, their final examinations taking place on Wednesday, May 22, and the remainder of the time will be used by them to prepare for the eventful evening. Those who are so far qualified for graduation are: Ethel Culp, Eva Deardorff, Lillian Kissinger, Alma Kittinger, Emily McDonnell, Earl Menchey, Helen Musselman, Nellie Ramer, George Sachs, John Settle, John Stahl, Russell Stouffer, John Troxell, Lorna Weaver, Charles Wible, Janie Wible and Margaret Williams.

The agitation for the wearing of caps and gowns by the graduates has again failed this year and the girls will appear in pretty new graduation dresses and the boys in new suits rather than the sombre grey which is prescribed for high schools where the academic garb is worn. All the Seniors claimed that they would wear new gowns and suits at any event and did not feel justified in spending additional money for the "uniforms." All hope that at some future day the School Board will feel justified in making such purchase for use by succeeding classes.

As their final public appearance before graduation the Seniors will give a play and farce on Friday evening, May 1, when they expect to entertain their friends with a full evening's entertainment. The names of the sketches and the casts will be announced later.

The faculty of the High School were the guests of the Senior class in Domestic Science at noon on Wednesday when luncheon was served in the High School building between the morning and afternoon periods. Miss Lillian Kissinger acted as hostess and Miss Helen Musselman as head waitress. Miss Fox, in charge of the department was ably assisted in the preparation and serving of the various courses by the members of her class, and a luncheon, highly creditable to the department and thoroughly enjoyed by the guests, was the result.

The Domestic Science department will give an exhibit of their work on the afternoon of Friday May 8.

COMMENCEMENT

Arendtsville High School Graduates to Receive their Diplomas.

The sermon to the graduates of the Arendtsville High School will be preached Sunday evening, April 26, at the Reformed church by Rev. T. C. Hesson. The third annual commencement exercises will take place on Monday night, April 27, at 8 o'clock in the lecture room of the Lutheran church. Rev. Joseph Baker will deliver the commencement address. The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises.

UPPER CLASSMEN TO STOP HAZING

Will Deal with Men who Maltreat Freshmen. Score Recent Action against First Year Men after their Banquet. Promise Punishment.

In order to bring to terms the students of Gettysburg College who may participate in hazing expeditions the upper classmen have decided to take disciplinary measures into their own hands and hope by this means to prevent further trouble. Following the recent Freshman banquet several of the class were subjected to indignities by persons who have not yet been brought to justice.

Just how the upper classmen expect to enforce their edict does not appear but it would seem from their formal action that corporal punishment may be in mind. This morning the following circular was distributed among the students at college:

"In a joint meeting of the two upper classes of Pennsylvania College, pertaining to the recent cases of hazing, a motion was made by Mr. A. Weidenbach '14, to formulate a circular to be distributed amongst the classes concerned.

"Independent, unorganized hazing will not be suffered within this college; furthermore, the methods employed in the recent cases are objectionable and cowardly.

"The upper classes herewith protest against such actions and warn all concerned, particularly the Sophomore class, from any repetition.

"If this warning is not properly regarded, disciplinary measures will be taken.

"This action was taken in accordance with and in support of the policy of the faculty and of the student council."

The circular is signed by the members of the joint committee.

The upper classmen believe that their discountenancing hazing will have a wholesome effect on unruly Sophomores and other students.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

Three Sessions Held on Wednesday for County Sunday School Workers. Addresses Made and Various Topics Discussed.

The County Sunday School meetings held in St. James Lutheran church Wednesday by Mrs. Baldwin, of Philadelphia, were very well attended by the Sunday School people from all parts of the county. At the morning session sixteen schools were represented, in the afternoon several more, and in the evening the room was well filled.

E. P. Miller, county president, presided at the day sessions, and the evening session was in charge of Wilson Bream, president of the First District.

The subject at the morning session was Elementary Work. Mrs. Baldwin gave very many helpful suggestions to the teachers in the primary and junior departments.

In the afternoon the subject of the proper way of teaching Missions in the schools was discussed. Miss Nettie Swartz, of New Oxford, County Missionary Superintendent, had charge of the devotion, and gave a talk on her department of work. Mrs. Baldwin followed with a splendid talk on Missions and held a conference in which many new ideas were brought up, and discussed.

In the evening Mrs. Baldwin spoke on the subject, "Strengthening Our Work." Some of the points were: increase in enrollment, a workers' meeting, grading of the Sunday School, planning of the program, lesson work or preparing the lesson, and teaching temperance.

Quoting from Marion Lawrence, she said "It is a shame to have a Sunday School smaller than it should be." The Sunday School enrollment should be increased until every boy and girl and man and woman is reached, but then they should be interested and kept at work and properly taught in order to keep them in the schools. A definite program planned for each Sunday and varied from time to time will keep the interest of the younger boys and girls and keep them from straying from the school during the "teen age", the time when the greatest loss occurs in the Sunday School. Give the children of twelve years of age an opportunity to accept Christ as their Saviour.

She gave the Sunday Schools a definition for temperance: "Temperance is total abstinence from all things harmful and moderation in all things good."

RUNAWAY

Two Horses Take Unexpected Trip and Damage Wagon.

The two horses which were hitched to a wagon load of lumber belonging to Joseph D. Weishaar of Diehl's Mill became frightened in some manner while being tied Wednesday afternoon in the lumber yards of Mrs. J. O. Blocher and ran away. The wagon struck a box car on the railroad siding which partly freed the horses. They ran with part of the wagon across Carlisle street and were caught in the alley near the City Hotel. The wagon was badly damaged but was repaired shortly after the accident and Mr. Weishaar started homeward.

BUSY MARKING LINCOLN ROAD

Painters Marking Route of Lincoln Way from Wrightsville to Gettysburg Working Rapidly and Placing Special Emblem.

Despite the several days of rainy weather much progress has been made in placing the markers along the proposed route of the Lincoln highway, through York county, from Wrightsville to Gettysburg. The first coat of paint for the markers has been completed, along the turnpike, starting at the Wrightsville bridge, to Thomasville. Wednesday morning the work was taken up of placing the markers along the route east of Thomasville. The work is in charge of the York Chamber of Commerce.

Much enthusiasm has been stirred up in the movement since A. R. Partridge, vice president of the Lincoln Highway Association, was in York last week and addressed a public meeting in the York Chamber of Commerce rooms at which time steps were taken to oppose the influence to divert the course from passing through York county.

The York chamber has communicated with the burgess of Abbottstown and of New Oxford and Gettysburg, as well as the several newspapers at these places, in order to stir up interest and lend co-operation in the work of properly marking the national highway. S. S. Neely is the Lincoln highway representative at this place.

VERA CRUZ IS HELD BY MARINES

Mexicans Driven From Seaport.

REFUGEES ARE SAFE

Many Are Taken on Board Steamer in Harbor.

GUERRILLA WARFARE HALTED

Hundreds Have Been Arrested and Placed Under Guard.

Vera Cruz, Mex., April 23.—Vera Cruz, after a day and night of resistance to the American forces, gradually ceased its opposition.

Urged by Rear Admiral Fletcher, the city began returning to its normal civil government, under its own local officials.

The gradual cessation of hostilities was brought about through notes sent by Consul William W. Canada to the mayor, the jefe politico or chief Federal civilian official, the chief of police and other officials, calling upon them for their co-operation.

The following cable was sent to the White House by Consul Canada:

"At two p. m. Wednesday the city was entirely quiet and thoroughly policed by American forces. The request that the San Sebastian hospital be placed at the disposal of our chief sanitary officer, together with native doctors and nurses to care for the Mexicans wounded, was immediately granted. It is reported that all Americans who stayed at the Diligencia hotel during the fighting are safe and are now going on board the Esperanza."

The chief point from which the Mexicans fired was in the central part of the city. From the two houses forming the Diligencia hotel the Mexican sharpshooters directed a troublesome fire.

House-top firing, which has been more or less continuous since the operations began sharply yesterday morning as soon as it became light enough to aim.

Captain William R. Rush, commander of the battleship Florida, had received orders not to effect any advance, but to hold the positions he had taken.

Captain Rush had under his orders ashore nearly 3000 men, while off shore there were awaiting his call as many more as he needed up to 9500 men.

Rear Admiral Fletcher was determined not to lose more men than was absolutely necessary, and for this reason in all probability did not utilize the forces under his command ashore in charges or to advance on the positions held by the snipers.

The Mexican troops belonging to the regular establishment have practically all left the city and the firing was carried out by armed citizens and straggling soldiers and policemen.

Among the citizen element offering opposition to the American force were many prisoners who had been released by General Gustavo Maas, the commander of the Federal garrison, before he evacuated the city. Many of these criminals inaugurated their liberty by becoming intoxicated and then found a convenient outlet for their enthusiasm by joining the fighters on the housetops.

As a hint of what might be expected later, the American force sent across the southeastern part of the city a few shells from their three-inch relief cannon.

The principal reason for Rear Admiral Fletcher's hesitation to bombard was that hundreds of non-combatants, including many women and children, who had been unable to get out of the central part of the city, were crowded into the Diligencia hotel building, from which most of the firing was done by the Mexicans.

Marines are searching all houses from which shots were fired, and all Mexicans with arms in their hands have been made prisoners and sent to the United States mine ship San Francisco. Some of the Mexicans were thoroughly frightened, apparently expecting that the Americans would shoot their prisoners.

Hundreds of Mexicans have been arrested and placed under a guard of marines at the railroad station.

A proclamation was issued in the name of Rear Admiral Badger, in command of the fleet in Mexican waters, setting forth rules for the guidance of the inhabitants. It urges them to co-operate with United States Consul Canada to resume their customary occupations. It is expected that business houses will reopen at once.

Not the Same Thing.
There is nothing dearer to a man than a good wife and very little that is more expensive.

WILLIAM R. RUSH.

Captain of Florida Led Bluejackets Into Vera Cruz.

Captain Rush led the first detachment of marines into Vera Cruz. He took the firing line with his command, sharing with his men the dangers of turning Huertista guerrillas.

TO BLOCK WEST COAST OF MEXICO

Warships to Prevent Landing of Ammunition.

Washington, April 22.—To prevent the delivery of ammunition reported on the way to Salina Cruz, Mexico, on a Japanese merchant vessel, orders were sent to Rear Admiral Howard, in command of the Pacific fleet, to send the gunboat Annapolis, now at Acapulco, and the armored cruiser Oyster, at Corinto, to Salina Cruz for this purpose.

Both these vessels have large complements of marines on board, and it is possible that the scenes in Vera Cruz may be re-enacted at Salina Cruz.

Salina Cruz is the Pacific terminal of the Tehuantepec railroad, which connects directly with Mexico City.

Orders were sent to the Mar Island and navy yard for the cruiser Maryland to drop down the bay to San Francisco and to be ready for Mexican duty.

The Maryland had all of her own stores and provisions on board, but began at once loading 800,000 rounds of ammunition for the vessels of the Pacific fleet now in Mexican waters.

The cruiser Cleveland is now at the Mar Island yard under orders to sail for Mexico on Saturday. She has no marines on board.

MAAS FLED IN CARRIAGE

Mexican General Turned His Soldiers Loose to Do as They Pleasured.

Vera Cruz, April 23.—General Gustavo Maas, commander of the garrison at Vera Cruz, left the city in a carriage half an hour after the first boat load of American marines landed from the warships.

This fact was stated officially, and it was also declared that he had not been seen or heard from since that hour. The commander's family followed him in another carriage.

It is stated that the Mexican troops forming the garrison of Vera Cruz were turned loose as soon as it was seen that the Americans were about to land and were told to act as they saw fit. Very few, if any, of their officers remained with the Mexican soldiers, whose operations were carried on without any one to direct them.

Some of the Mexican troops obtained a considerable supply of intoxicants by looting two stores. As a result many of them were in a condition which made them equally dangerous to natives and foreigners who came within their range.

CARRANZA IS FRIENDLY

Constitutionalist Leader Says That His Faction Will Be Neutral.

Matamoros, Mex., April 23.—General Jesus Carranza, the commander-in-chief of the Constitutionalist forces in northwestern Mexico, gave out the following statement:

"While it is humiliating to all Mexicans to know that the United States flag is floating over Vera Cruz, we shall remain neutral unless an attempt is made to invade territory controlled by the Constitutionalist forces. We have only the friendliest feeling for the United States."

Plan For Sick and Wounded.

Washington, April 23.—Surgeon General Bralsted, of the navy, said that the medical department is preparing for the care of the sick and wounded Mexicans as well as Americans. "It is the intention to bring the remains of all naval dead to the United States at the earliest opportunity, and to either forward them to the next of kin or to make final interment in a national cemetery."

NO DISORDERS IN MEXICO CITY

All Trains Commandeered by the Government.

FOREIGNERS ARE BOTTLED UP

Huerta Declares He Will Defend National Honor Against U. S. Government—Not a War With American People.

Mexico City, Mex., April 23.—The government organ, the El Imparcial, publishes the following in an extra edition, under a seven column head: "Blood has flowed in Vera Cruz. Yankees have been killed, the American sailors have landed and our troops have fired. They have orders to resist for only a short time and then fall back, as the city is not in condition for defense."

"At 11 Tuesday morning the North Americans touched land and immediately were attacked by the gallant garrison of the port. Our country's soil is profaned by the foreign invader."

A joint session of the Mexican congress is being held to discuss the situation. The cable and telegraph lines have not been interrupted, but trains going to Vera Cruz have been commandeered by the government. The American charge d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, and all Americans are bottled up in Mexico City, but there have been no disorders, despite the tremendous excitement. Troops are parading the streets and guards have been stationed in front of all legations, including the American embassy.

General Huerta has given out the following statement to the press:

"Mexico is defending not only her national sovereignty, but that of all Latin America as well. This is not a war between the Mexican and American peoples, but between Mexico and the government of the United States, which is controlled by men who have forced this situation upon us in spite of our efforts to the contrary. We shall have 400,000 men in the field within twenty days."

General Huerta also assured Charge O'Shaughnessy personally and in the friendliest tone that he and all the Americans in Mexico City would be defended against all attack.

General Huerta also makes the following declaration in El Imparcial:

"In the port of Vera Cruz we are sustaining with arms the national honor against the outrage which the Yankee government is committing against a free people, as is and always will be that of this republic. This action will pass on to history which will put Mexico and the government of the United States each in the place where it belongs."

The Mexican Herald will publish a bulletin for Mr. O'Shaughnessy advising prudence for the Americans in Mexico City and conveying to them General Huerta's assurance of safety. Many American stores are closed. The streets are quiet, soldiers preventing large gatherings of people.

LIND PLANNED MOVE

Envoy Believes Removal of Huerta Will Bring Peace.

Washington, April 23.—John Lind, the president's special envoy to Huerta, virtually originated the plan now being pursued in congress by the president.

That plan, when fully carried out, means the ultimate elimination of Huerta from the Mexican situation in order to enable the Constitutionalist to restore order, according to the belief expressed by members of congress who say they know the situation.

It is said that this administration has long believed that the Constitutionalist are the only ones who can maintain order and that a pretext for having this government take an open stand against General Huerta has long been sought. The arrest of the blue-jackets furnished this and speedy action on the plan followed.

MAY SHUT OFF REBELS' ARMS

Army and Navy Board Recommends That Embargo Be Imposed Again.

Washington, April 23.—It was reported here that the army and navy board has recommended the restoration of the embargo on arms at the Mexican border, and that the subject has been taken up with Secretary of State Bryan, who now has it under consideration.

This action would cut off the supplies of arms for the Mexican rebels and would prevent them from getting large stores of arms and ammunition to use against the United States if they should determine to aid Huerta against the United States.

$500,000 Voted For Refugees.

Washington, April 23.—An appropriation of $500,000, to be used in bringing American citizens out of Mexico, was voted by the house without debate or division. The senate appropriation committee will take up the resolution at once, and it probably will go through the senate soon after ward.

FOUR MINERS FALL 250 FEET TO DEATH

The Hoisting Cage Strikes an Obstruction.

Pottsville, Pa., April 23.—Four men were killed at the Pine Hill shaft of the Pine Mill Coal company, near Minersville, when, as they were being hoisted from the mine, the cage struck an obstruction and, as the sides were all open, the four men were thrown off the cage.

They fell with a scream of horror 250 feet to the bottom of the shaft, their legs and arms entwined about each other.

The dead are: Joseph Kusick, Casimer De Lago, Thomas Sempleske and Peter Iroux, all of Minersville. All the men were married and had large families.

State mine inspectors are investigating the tragedy. Circumstances indicate that the coat or dinner pail of one of the four victims became caught in the guide of the shaft or shoe of the cage and caused the fatal fall.

ACCUSED POSTMASTER QUILTS

Judge Brumm Charged Graham Attacked Him in Unsigned Letter.

Mahanoy City, Pa., April 23.—Postmaster David Graham, against whom charges were filed by Judge C. N. Brumm, alleging that Graham was the author of an anonymous letter sent during the impeachment proceedings against Brumm to injure the judge, resigned his office. His term would not have expired until June.

The bondsmen of Graham were directed to select a postmaster to fill out Graham's term, and they have selected William P. Dochney.

Congressman Robert E. Lee recently sent a letter to President Wilson, in which he charged that after postoffice inspectors had investigated charges against Graham and had recommended his removal, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blakeslee stepped in and prevented action. Congressman Lee threatened to start a congressional investigation if no action were taken.

Say Huerta Will Command.

Laredo, Tex., April 23.—The Mexican Federal garrison at Nuevo Laredo was ordered to evacuate that town and leave for Saltillo by special train. Their officers say they have information that they will go from Saltillo to Mexico City to fight the American troops and that Huerta will take personal command of the army.

HUERTA TO SEVER RELATIONS

His Envoy is Expected to Ask For Passports.

EXPECTED TO DECLARE WAR

It is Also Said Dictator Will Request United States to Withdraw Nelson O'Shaughnessy From Mexico City.

Washington, April 23.—Senor Al- gara, the Mexican charge d'affaires here, it was reported, had been in- structed by Provisional President Huerta to ask Secretary of State Bry- an for his passports.

It was also reported on good author- ity, but not officially announced, that Huerta had requested the United States to withdraw Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires in Mexico City.

Such action, if taken, would be looked upon generally as preparation by Huerta to issue a declaration of war.

Senor Algara will ask for his pas- ports, according to a statement by one of his friends. The Mexican charge, it was stated, will go to New York city, where he will spend several days. Then he will go to Canada for a visit and sail from there for France. Am- bassador Jusserand, of France, it is understood, will act for Mexico in Washington.

Senor Algara admitted at the em- bassy that he had received several messages from his government which indicated that he might be recalled at any moment, but that he had not yet been ordered to ask for his passports. He looked for such an order to come at any time, he said.

Secretary Bryan denied that Mr. O'Shaughnessy had been asked by Huerta to leave Mexico.

Empty dry goods boxes were deliv- ered at the Mexican embassy, but de- spite these apparent preparations for departure, Senor Algara stated that he had not received an order to ask for his passports. It was reported that Huerta, in earlier messages, had in- formed Algara that he could leave his post whenever he thought the situa- tion warranted his departure.

Such a severance of diplomatic re- lations, though not necessarily a pre- lude to war, is one of the steps that must be taken if war is to be formally declared, and it is surmised that Gen- eral Huerta is now about to resort to that step, regardless of any construc- tion that may be placed upon the ex- isting status of relations between the United States and Mexico by the Washington government.

If this surmise is well founded the international relations of Mexico ne- cessarily would be greatly affected and be readjusted to suit conditions of actual war, such as those arising from a blockade and the necessity of defin- ing the rights of neutrals within Mexi- can territory.

FATALITIES GRIEVE WILSON

The President Expresses Sorrow at Deaths of Marines.

Washington, April 23.—"I'm sorry terribly sorry," was President Wil- son's first words when news of the loss of life in taking Vera Cruz first reached him.

The president was sad and disheart- ened. He had hoped that the seizure of Vera Cruz might have been accom- plished without loss of life and Ameri- can bloodshed. He has determined, however, that there shall be no back- ward step. He is trying to avert war and prevent further bloodshed, but he realizes that the American people want the dignity of the flag upheld.

For the present the United States will content itself with holding the custom house at Vera Cruz, collecting duties and preventing shipments of arms from reaching Huerta.

Tampico is the next objective point. It has not yet been decided whether a blockade alone will be maintained there or the custom house seized.

Burn Foreigners' Property.

Galveston, Tex., April 23.—Dr. George Taber, former health officer of Texas, wired from Puerto Mexico, on the gulf below Vera Cruz, that American and British property valued at $25,000 was destroyed there by Mexicans in anti- American riots. Three warehouses and a number of dwellings were burned. The Gulf Coast Fruit and Steamship company was the heaviest loser, with a loss of $10,000.

England Holds Up Benton Affair.

London, April 23.—England will not add to the troubles of the United States in connection with Mexico at the present time by taking any further steps in reference to the death of Wil- liam S. Benton at the hands of the Constitutionalists. Under Secretary Acland, of the foreign office to parlia- ment, said, however, that the affair would not be allowed to drop.

Huerta Seeks to Arbitrate.

New York, April 23.—President Huerta will appeal to the United States for the appointment of a peace arbitration commission to settle mat- ters in dispute, according to Emilio- rio De La Garza, Jr., who was the first envoy sent by Mexican president to President Wilson asking that his government be recognized.

In spite of the threatening conditions now existing in the revol- utionary republic, Senora Huerta has much time to attend to her social du- ties.

WILSON CAREFULLY GUARDED

Bryan Also Has Armed Escort and Po- licemen Guard Mexican Embassy.

Washington, April 23.—Secretary of State Bryan has organized an armed bodyguard; additional secret service operatives have been detailed to watch over President Wilson.

The uniformed police and plain- clothes men on duty about the White House and the state, war and navy building have been heavily reinforced and a heavy police guard has been es- tablished at the Mexican embassy.

Secretary Bryan has had several of the white messengers of the state de- partment sworn in as deputy United States marshals in order to permit them to bear arms and serve as a per- sonal bodyguard.

It was given out that this precau- tion was taken because of a report that a crank had been in the depart- ment seeking to do Mr. Bryan injury.

No formal suggestion was made to Mr. Algara, but unostentatiously a number of plain clothes men were sent to keep watch around the big red brick residence in I street. It was re- called that shortly before hostilities with Spain in 1898 vandals made an attack on the Spanish legation.

FIRST TO LOSE LIFE IN WAR

Philadelphia Killed by Mexican Bul- let at Seizure of Vera Cruz.

Philadelphia, April 23.—A twenty- year-old Philadelphia boy, George Pol- sett, a seaman on the battleship Flor- ida, and whose parents live at 5321 North Twelfth street, was the first American to be killed in the hostil- ities against Mexico.

Polsett was killed in the attack on the American marines and sailors af- ter the seizure of the custom house at Vera Cruz.

According to William Polsett, a brother of the dead seaman, he was killed while hoisting the American flag on the landing pier at Vera Cruz. Secretary of the Navy Daniels, in a telegram, extended his personal sym- pathy to the parents. The message reads:

"I extend deepest sympathy to you in the loss of your son, killed in bat- tle at Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 21, 1914. His heroic courage gives his name a place among our country's pa- triotic defenders."

Say Huerta Planned Insults.

Washington, April 23.—That General Huerta deliberately planned the ar- rest of American bluejackets at Tam- pico and other offenses against the United States with a view to bringing on armed intervention and uniting all the Mexican factions behind him, was the substance of a letter received by a high government official from an au- thoritative source in Mexico City.

Three More Battleships to Sail.

Washington, April 23.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels ordered the battle- ships Virginia, Georgia and Nebraska, now at Boston, to sail Saturday for Mexican waters, with destination prob- ably Vera Cruz. These battleships form the third division of the Atlantic fleet.

GIVES HUERTA'S MEXICO COULD

Private Peace Commissioner Tells of Dictator's Vast Resources.

"HUERTA hasn't begun to scratch the resources of Mexico. With- out the assistance of a dollar of outside capital he could carry on his present campaign against the rebels for five years. If people in the United States realized that Huerta could raise $200,000,000 at any time with little effort, perhaps the prospect of armed intervention or war wouldn't be regarded as so much of a skylark for the American army and navy."

William H. Ellis, a New York capi- talist and personal friend of General Huerta, made this statement to the Brooklyn Eagle and told how the se- cret efforts of a self constituted peace commission, of which he was a mem- ber, were shattered by President Wil- son's order lifting the embargo on arms in Mexico on the very eve of Huerta's compliance.

"Neither General Carranza nor Gen- eral Villa will ever enter the City of Mexico—least of all if the news dis- patches of a split between them are true. On the other hand, so long as the Wilson policy of nonrecognition persists, revolution will continue so long as there is a dollar left in Mexico or a horse or cow standing on four feet."

"It would be more honorable and, I imagine, safer for General Huerta to give his sword to an American general on a battlefield than to hand it over to either General Carranza or General Villa. At present it doesn't seem as if he were going to do either."

American Capital Tied Up.

"Intervention in the present crisis would create a very bad impression upon all South and Central America. Had President Huerta been recognized by the United States the revolution would not have been as strong as it is today and probably would have been put down altogether."

"At the present time $200,000,000 of American capital is at a standstill. It is bringing no interest. Next year the banks will begin to foreclose and the train of financial ruin that will follow will be appalling."

There are few Americans, says the Eagle, better qualified to talk under- standingly of Mexico and its needs than Mr. Ellis. He is on the "inside" and has been so for the past thirty- three years. He was born on the Mexi- can frontier and spent his early days as a cowboy, later branching out into cattle, wool, hide and cotton trading.

Mr. Ellis, together with Dr. Bernabe Barrios, left secretly on Dec. 24 for the City of Mexico as a special peace com- missioner. To interview President Huerta and the leading Mexican citizens and to present to them a proposition by which it was hoped peace might be brought about. In speaking of their negotia- tions, Mr. Ellis said:

"Our first interview with President Huerta took place at his private resi- dence. It lasted practically all night, and the results of the first conference were cable to New York. Actual ne- gotiations were then begun which might have ultimately adjusted the Mexican situation, so far as Huerta and President Wilson were concerned, had not an unforeseen event happened which shattered completely the work we had done. At this particular moment General Huerta looked with favor upon any proposition that would bring about a closer and more friendly relationship between his government and that of the United States.

Huerta's Attitude.

"President Huerta expressed admiration for President Wilson. He said that he thought that Wilson was doing what he considered to be the right thing. But Huerta also said that no one could complain of the treatment of Americans and other foreigners by him. He hoped, he said, that the American people would find some way to recog- nize the Mexican government, as recog- nition meant an immediate end to the war, and the salvage of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property and thousands of lives."

"Our definite suggestion was that a committee of twenty leading men, from both Mexico and the United States, should meet and draw up a plan for bringing about an agreement between the two countries. This plan, when drawn up, was to be laid before Presi- dent Wilson and President Huerta for their approval.

SIDE AND SAYS WAGE FIERCE WAR

"President Huerta seriously consid- ered the proposition. He told us he appreciated our motives and that the idea was a good one. And then occur- ed an event which completely ruined the entire scheme."

"The embargo on arms was lifted for the rebels by President Wilson. Nego- tiations were immediately broken off by President Huerta."

"It is now a fight to the finish and to death," said President Huerta.

"Although President Huerta had not definitely committed himself at the time," continued Mr. Ellis, "it seemed as if the plan would go through. After the embargo on arms was lifted, how- ever, General Huerta plainly was op- posed to any peace scheme."

"It seems as if the government of the United States wants to allow us to exterminate ourselves," said President Huerta. "There is nothing I can do as representative of the Mexican govern- ment except to fight. It is no time to talk peace."

"As far as foreign capital is con- cerned the situation is truly appalling. More than $200,000,000 of American capital is at complete standstill, and before the end of the year the banks will probably begin to foreclose. Thou- sands of American residents will be forced to leave their homes. Their children were born in Mexico and brought up largely as Mexicans. They are Mexicans in everything except na- tionality. The present administration did not take into consideration that by ordering these thousands of Ameri- cans out of the country it was ruining them financially. They have no con- nections in this country, although it is their own. A lifetime's earnings are now at hazard in Mexico."

Huerta's Resources.

"In any discussion of Huerta's strength and the possibilities of his holding out indefinitely it is necessary to consider the immense financial resources at his command. How many persons know that Huerta can raise $200,000,000 at any time he desires? First of all, he has suspended the pay- ment on all his bonded indebtedness and railroad bonds. He has doubled the taxes on all mortgages, stamps, mining interests and other properties. The government is now considering mortgaging or leasing a bond against the church property in Mexico, which, under the law, is government property and aggregates between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000 pesos. The Catholic church in Mexico, as every one knows, is fully able to redeem this property. If the government issues bonds against church property the entire issue would be subscribed by the church."

"There are approximately 75,000 large haciendas, or ranches, in Mexico. Huerta's government contemplates as- sessing these 75,000 plantations about $5,000 each per year during the exist- ence of the war, which would bring in a revenue of $375,000,000. Likewise there is being formulated a plan to tax all the water powers in the republic on a horsepower ratio basis. This would bring in about twenty or thirty million dollars. There are countless other sources of revenue that could be called upon. Each barrel of oil, every ton of ore from the mines, could be taxed, and the import and export du- ties could be raised."

"I believe that Huerta could whip the rebels in any pitched battle. This, however, would only prolong the rev- olution. The rebels would simply dis- band and break up into small groups. Instead of having 5,000 rebels in one place we would have hundreds, posing as revolutionists, roaming over the entire republic, robbing and murdering and committing outrage after outrage. The only way to quell revolution is to quell the revolutionists. This would mean turning Mexico into a vast slaughter house."

"There is one solution to the situa- tion which has been suggested to those in intimate contact with Mexican af- fairs, but of which the general public, I believe, knows but little. If Presi- dent Huerta should resign, and going north, take charge of the army and fight the rebels, something might be accomplished. It has been suggested that he leave the presidency to Jose Lopez y Portillo y Rojas, his minister of foreign affairs, a man of great talent and ability. He has the respect of his enemies as well as his friends and would, no doubt, make an ideal presi- dent."

Who Will Succeed Huerta?

"In case the American government, with pressure or otherwise, eliminated President Huerta, who would be presi- dent in his stead?"

"General Carranza is intelligent and clever, but I do not think Carranza has sufficient strength to control his forces. Should Huerta resign, he re- moved or defeated by the insurgents he would still have such a great fol- lowing that Carranza would have diffi- culty in bringing peace to the country. The federalists as they now stand con- stitute the real Mexican army. They have given years to military education and service, and, of course, they would not consent to be governed by a man or a set of men who were apparently made overnight. The officers of the rebel army are intelligent men who have taken up arms for a cause which they consider a principle. If they suc- ceed they will take full charge of the government, and the present execu- tives would be replaced by generals made on the battlefield.

The "Dark Horse."

"General Fernando Gonzales, son of ex-President Gonzales, is an intelligent general and would also make a good president. He is at present living in New York and is a man of ideas, hon- est and clever, although not a military man."

GENERAL CARRANZA, A POSSIBILITY AS HUERTA'S SUCCESSOR.

"But there is a dark horse in the race. His name seems almost forgot- ten, and I dare say that the average newspaper reader has never heard of him. He is a man that has never en- couraged a revolution. He was forced to leave Mexico during the early days of Madero's revolution and was forced to leave a second time, after General Huerta became president. He is hon- est, able and straightforward, and he would suit all factions. His name is Dr. Vasquez Gomez, and at present he is living in Washington."

"Mexico is not waiting for intelli- gent men. But it is in want of a mili- tary leader. The people are accus- tomed to being ruled by an iron hand."

LADIES DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and No- body will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its nat- ural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appear- ance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

The Contents Of a Box

By EDITH V. ROSS

I was walking on a side street in St. Petersburg one afternoon when I met a man with a box on a wheelbarrow. As he passed me the wheelbarrow dropped from the sidewalk to the street, a distance of about twelve inches. From inside the box came a suppressed groan, as of some one who had been hurt or badly joggled by an unexpected fall. I knew some one was inside the box, and by the tone of the cry I surmised that it was a woman, a girl or a boy.

The man who pushed the barrow went on his way. Whether he had heard the sound from within I don't know. I think he had, for I saw him bite his lip as though displeased with himself at this carelessness. But he pretended that nothing was amiss and did not notice me proceeding with affected unconcern. I walked on a short distance, then turned and, curious for an explanation of the mystery, followed him.

On reaching a building containing government offices he opened a basement door and pushed his load inside, closing the door behind him. This shut me off so far as that means of entrance was concerned, but the building being a public one I could go in through the main door on the floor above. This I did, and after giving the man time to set down his burden I went down into the basement by an interior staircase. I saw the wheelbarrow pushed showing his barrow out of the door through which he had entered. In the basement, standing against the wall, was the box that had been left there.

I stood some distance from it considering what I should do. I was born with a full measure of curiosity and desired to see the mystery unfold itself. To go to the box and tell whoever was inside that I had the secret of his or her being there would arrest the matter where it was, for the design, whatever it might be, would doubtless be thus forestalled. The only way I could hope to observe its development would be to hide in the basement overnight. Which of these two plans should I adopt?

Shortly after 6 I heard some one come down the stairs and lock up. Then, turning out all the lights except one in the hall, which he left burning low, he mounted the stairs, and I heard his footsteps die away above.

Nothing but the prospect of an adventure would have induced me to be thus locked up for all night. As it was I did not regret my action for a moment. I was sure that some one--I believed a woman--was in that box and during the night she would do something unusual. While waiting I tried to conjure up something she might do. But I confess I could think of nothing whatever.

I expected to have to wait till midnight or morning before a denouement, but when a clock outside struck in deep tones the hour of 9 the play began. I heard the squeak of turning screws. Either some one beside the person in the box was in the basement or a part of the box had been screwed on from the inside. When the screw turning stopped I heard the removal of wood. Whoever moved from the box must pass near me. I heard no step, but a figure flitted before me, and as it passed into the hall where the light was burning I saw that it was a young woman.

This naturally added spice to the adventure. Emerging from my hiding place, I followed on tiptoe. As I reached the hall I saw the figure turn from the topmost step into the upper hall. Still following, I tracked the woman through a corridor till she stopped before an office door with a glass panel, through which shone a light. I, being in darkness, was enabled to steal up near to the figure. I saw her look through the glass into the office.

She raised her arm above her head. The light struck something in her hand. Her other hand was on the door knob. I dashed forward, but without sound, running on my toe tips, and caught her wrist just as she turned the doorknob and pulled the door slightly ajar. Suppressing a cry, she stood without motion except to turn her head and fix her eyes on me. We both stood silent, motionless. Through the glass I saw a man with his back to us working at a desk. The girl closed the door softly, and still holding her wrist, I drew her to the main hall, where there was a light burning.

"Are you a spy?" she asked.

"No."

"One of the police?"

"No. I am a simple citizen of St. Petersburg. I have saved a life and have saved you from crime."

"You have prevented my breaking a link in the chain that holds the Russian people. What are you going to do with me?"

"Nothing. But you shall not go back there. Who is he?"

"The chief of police."

"Give me that glass ball you hold."

She did so, and, ringing the janitor's bell, when he came I told him that we had been locked in the building and wished to be let out. He unlocked the main door for us, and we departed.

The girl could not have been over eighteen years old.

The next day I informed the chief of police by an anonymous note that he had better not thereafter work nights alone in his office.
